REVEALING WHOLENESS

IN PERSON

Revealing Wholeness offers students an essential application of Science of Mind Principles and Practices, exploring the profound interrelationship between Spirit, Mind, and Body. Students will explore the depths of Science of Mind teachings to understand how the principles can be practically applied to align and harmonize the spiritual, mental, and physical aspects of their being. Through this exploration, students will discover the power of integrating science and spirituality, leading to a deeper understanding of their own wholeness and facilitating a transformative journey of self-discovery and spiritual growth.
